

BREAK LINE OF INVADERS AT LA BASSE

JOHN FRENCH REPORTS ADVANCE OF BRITISH ARMY FOR OVER A MILE

EXPLAIN RUSS RETREAT

General Staff Gives Full Account of Recent Operations in Western Galicia.

London, May 17.—Field Marshal Sir John French has broken his silence in regard to the movement of the British army northwest of La Basse with the announcement of an advance of nearly a mile into the German line. This, together with the contribution of the French press both in the north and south of La Basse, constitutes the outstanding feature of the military situation to-day. Military commentators here regard the British advance as a genuine break of the German line, which it is maintained must mean a retreat for a considerable section of the invader's forces.

Russians Explain Retreat.

Peterburg, via London, May 17 (declared by telegram).—The Russian general staff, explaining the change in the Galician campaign from a successful advance to a retreat, gave out the following report:

"From the middle of April, news began to reach us of the transportation of great numbers of Germans from the western front and their concentration in Western Galicia. The state of affairs thus created forced us to stop the development of our advance in the direction of Meziorozz and Lasko in order to bring ourselves of facilities for sending reserves to the threatening section of our front."

"However, the force which the enemy threw against our front, was so considerable that our army was unable to keep the pressure on the German-Galitzia section."

Keep Front Intact.

"The result was desperate and interrupted fighting with impetuous counterattacks which prevented the enemy from breaking our front. The action was confined to frontal attacks on the positions of the third army, which he occupied in succession."

"The enthusiasm of our troops enabled them to maintain perfect order, cope with the difficult problems of the battle and inflict enormous losses on the enemy."

"On May 14, the whole third army deployed on the San and in conformity with this fact, we were obliged to take rearrangements which were completed on the same day in order to enable the adjacent armies to unite their fronts."

"Although we were able to fall back on the Carpathians, we made a decisive offensive in Western Galicia, whereby we gained results essential to our left wing and inflicted a severe defeat on the Austrians in the Dnieper front of about 100 miles. Within five days, beginning on the ninth, we captured in this region about 30,000 prisoners and forced the enemy to retreat in disorder across the Pruth."

Przemysl Batteries Active.

"On May 14 our long range batteries at Przemysl discovered a column of the enemy approaching from the west, inflicting heavy losses. On other sections on the San on the eastern slopes of the Carpathians no actions are reported."

"The Austrian army defeated on the Dnieper on the 14th, could not maintain its position on the left bank of the Pruth except in region of Kolomoia with the aid of reinforcements brought by train, bringing in the last reserves composed of Sappers detachments still in course of formation and last available units."

"On the same day our troops captured Nadworna after a great struggle."

Finance Committee Cuts Four Million From State Budget

No State Tax Need Be Levied for Support of General Government—Other Reductions.

Madison, Wis., May 17.—Four million dollars will be cut out of the budget estimates made by the various state departments, university and normal schools, board of control and highway commission, according to the conclusions reached by the joint finance committee, which has held hearings on appropriation measures since the first week in the session. No state tax need be levied for the support of the general government this year. Year before last it was necessary to levy $1,500,000.

The budget estimates of the department submitted to the legislature at the beginning of the session indicated that it would require $31,816,000 for the next biennial period. The cut of $4,000,000 means that the total disbursements for the next biennial period cannot exceed approximately $27,816,000. Notwithstanding requests for increased appropriations, the result of rapid development of schools, the increased housing facilities needed at the various charitable and penal institutions and the demands made upon the departments by the growth of the state, there will be no perceptible increase in the amount allowed to run the state.

For the biennial period closing June 30, 1915, the expense of running the state government will approximate $27,000,000. The amount will comprehend the appropriation of the common school fund income or similar fixed funds which have no place in the regular budget. They cover, however, all state departments, boards and commissions, normal schools, the university, highways, the charitable and penal institutions, maintaining the state system of schools, the legislature, aid to semi-public institutions, and such aids as grants to rural schools, county institutes, training schools, etc.

This cut of $4,000,000 will be made without repealing the appropriations for the contemplated university buildings, the erection of the home for the feeble-minded at Union Grove, for the new industrial home for women at Taycheedah and improvements at the other charitable and penal institutions and the completion of the necessary buildings and improvements at all of the normal schools," said Senator George E. Scott, chairman of the joint committee on finance today.

The finance committee has its affairs in such shape that as soon as the legislature next meets, it will be in a position to take up the appropriation measures. It is out of the way, the finance committee will be ready to report its measures to the floor. The year of the extraordinary large cash balances which will be in the treasury on July 1, next, and the care with which all new appropriations will be made, there is no possibility that the next two years will see a state tax for the support of the general government, unless the legislature refuses to accept the reductions made by the finance committee.

The joint committee on finance, which has had its work in charge composed of Senators George E. Scott, Prairie Farm; Platt Whitman, Highland; Fred A. Baxter, Superior; W. J. Schlicher, Belgium; Henry Rollins, Clinton; and Assemblymen E. W. Kubasta, Merrill; Newcomb Spoor, Berlin; Carl Kurlenacker, La Crosse; John F. Hazer, Whitehall; Edward Hendricks, Tennessee; Chris Fitch, Fond du Lac; John R. Helm, Madison; Charles Bentz, Marquette; and William L. Smith, Milwaukee.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED WOULD CROSS BORDER

United States Authorities Take Precaution Measures to Prevent Over Thousand From Coming Across Line.

Emerson, Manitoba, May 17.—A band of 1,000 unemployed men, covered and weary, limped into Emerson today and reinforced the 200 Austrians and Russians who formed the vanguard of the army of unemployed men at 1,000 which is scattered along the border in a thirty mile circle and which has voiced its determination to enter the United States.

United States and Canadian immigration officials held hurried conference and were ready to deny the request to cross the border, which it was announced the leader of the army would make upon their arrival. A large number of the border have been sworn in by the United States officials.

Several companies of Canadian soldiers will reach this town today with instructions to suppress immediately any attempt by the marchers to disobey orders of officials.

It was suggested the purpose of the troops is to arrest the entire army and intern it at camp at Brandon, Manitoba.

Tax Sale Tuesday: County Treasurer Livernois was busy today making final preparations for the annual tax sale which will be held on Tuesday at his office in the court house. The two young men went fishing early yesterday morning. The accident occurred at ten o'clock, but the body of Cheesbro was not recovered until one.

ARMENIANS DEFEND CITY FROM TURKS; 6,000 SLAUGHTERED

Force of Kurds and Turks in Terrible Massacre of People in Armenia, Asiatic Turkey.

London, May 17.—Sixty thousand Armenians have been massacred at Van, in Armenia, Asiatic Turkey, according to dispatches received here today from Urumiah, Persia. The message, dated May 15, says the Armenians are defending themselves to the utmost against the Turks and Kurds' raid against them, but help is urgently needed.

News dispatches from Persia, Armenia, and Transcaucasia, in Russia, has set forth for several weeks the position of the Armenians in Turkey as well as the northwest Persia as one of great danger, but no message indicated such extensive massacre as this report to London. It is true, the Armenian situation threatens to rival the situation of 1895.

Kurds and Turks have been persecuting the Armenian residents of these localities for several months. The city of Van has normally 30,000 inhabitants and is the seat of important American missions, and missionaries have taken active part in the protection of Armenians.

PLANS BRITISH DRIVE AGAINST GERMANS

Major General Sir W. Robert Robertson, K. C., V. O.

War News Summary.

Italy's long awaited decision for or against war may be reached today. Premier Salandra has called a meeting of the cabinet, the first since the political crisis which resulted in the retention in office of the Salandra ministry. The final decision may be postponed, however, until the assembling of parliament, set for Thursday.

All Italy is in a state of feverish excitement and the temper of the people is represented as overwhelmingly in favor of war. Clashes between Austrians and Italian frontier guards are reported. At Trieste, one of the principal Austrian cities claimed by Italy, a crowd composed of women became so violent in an anti-Austrian demonstration that it was charged by troops, causing the death of forty-seven women.

Another thrust at the German line this time just north of La Basse, was made by the allies, and according to French and British reports was attended with conspicuous successes. The claim of the British that the German line was broken down over the greater part of two miles' section is disputed, however, by the German war office which says all attacks of the allies were repulsed.

The operations now in progress are characterized as the most important of any since last fall.

About one-tenth of the feeble-minded persons are receiving proper care," said Mr. Butler, who asserted also that "two-thirds of the feeble-minded inherit their condition."

NATION'S FLEET IS LAUDED BY WILSON FOLLOWING REVIEW

New York, May 17.—President Wilson delivered a patriotic address on the American flag and the protection it carries for Americans, at a luncheon given today in his honor by the New York citizens' committee for the reviving of the Atlantic fleet.

When the president arose to speak, soon after reviewing the parade of sailors and marines from the fleet, he was enthusiastically cheered. Five hundred army and navy officers and other guests jumped to their feet and applauded. All the officers were in full dress uniform.

Alton B. Parker, Jacob Schiff, Joseph H. Choate, August Belmont, and many other prominent New Yorkers were present.

Acting Mayor George McAneny introduced the president. The president declared the luncheon was not an occasion at which it was wise for him to make an extended address.

"It is right," he said, "that America should have a great navy to express its character."

The navy, he said, brought the United States in touch with the entire world. Secretary Daniels was warmly praised by the president. Under him, the president said, the navy had become more and more efficient. The secretary, he declared, had his entire support.

"The navy of the United States," the president said, "expresses our ideal. The fleet lying here at New York is a great fleet and has nothing of bluster about it."

"The great thing about America is that it stands for humanity and for the things that humanity wants."

New York, May 17.—A mighty armada of battleships, destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft, the nation's bulwark in case of war, swung at anchor in the Hudson river today for review by the president of the United States. It was the most powerful array of fighting ships ever assembled in the harbor of New York. The fleet stretched for four miles in a double line array.

NEW DOG LICENSES RECEIVED BY CITY

First Dog Tag Is Sold Today—Police Department to Take Legal Steps to Force License Purchases.

B. H. Baldwin, city clerk, was the first to purchase the dog license tag for the next year and the canine belonging to J. H. Vincent, South Main street, will wear the new tag. City Clerk J. P. Hammond this morning received eight hundred of the tags to be used this year and five had been sold today. The new tags are round and colored yellow to distinguish them from last year's tags. The ordinance calls for the new tags to be purchased by the first of June, and gives fifteen days in which to obtain them. It is expected that the ordinance will be amended so as to allow for an additional fee for the replacing of tags alleged to have been lost or stolen.

Chief Champion declares that there were a number of people that had purchased tags for last year, and without the new license is purchased a test case will be made in court for prosecution to force the buying of tags. To date about one hundred and fifty dogs have been shot by the police since the ordinance went into effect.

FIVE DRUNKS BEFORE COURT THIS MORNING

Three Young Men Sentenced for Intoxication Charges—Two Are Given the Pledge by Judge.

Too much Saturday night celebration, together with the picnic up the river Sunday, proved too much for five men, three of whom were barely twenty years of age, as they were arraigned in the municipal court today morning on charges of intoxication.

Tony Halverson of Stoughton, enjoyed the picnic, but did not enjoy the Saturday night celebration. He was fined $100 in default of a five-dollar fine given him on his plea of guilty to being drunk and disorderly Sunday evening. Alva Burdick, aged 22 years, was arrested at his home on Western avenue after the police received a call that Burdick and a paroled commitment law prisoner were engaged in a fist encounter in the Burdick residence. He took the pledge for a year and was given ten days.

George Smith of this city, went off the water wagon Saturday night and hit the bottom with a fifteen day sentence in default of a five-dollar fine. He also took the pledge for a year. Otis Blakely pleaded not guilty and his case was adjourned for one week on the motion of Attorney B. H. Ryan. Personal bail to the amount of $75 was given for his appearance.

Elmer Gleason was released on his plea of guilty to being drunk and his case adjourned for a week. Gleason was arrested by Patrolman Harmon when the police received a call from neighbors that there was an overabundance of gabfety at the Gleason residence on North Jackson street near the railroad tracks. Gleason was released on his promise to obey the order of Chief Champion and clear his home of a number of noisy relatives who delighted in midnight sessions.

Adjourn Case: The civil case of Crook vs. William was adjourned one week by the consent of the attorneys, E. H. Ryan and Louis Avery, in the municipal court this morning. No complaint has been filed in the case as yet.

S. P. O. E. Meeting: There will be an important meeting of the S. P. O. E. clubs Tuesday evening. Several candidates await initiation, which will be followed by a roast-beef lunch.

ITALY WAITS THE VERDICT OF CABINET

PREMIER SALANDRA CONFERS WITH MINISTERS ON SUBJECT OF PEACE OR WAR.

KILL WOMEN IN RIOTS

Forty-seven Italian Women Meet Death in Demonstration Against the Austrian Government

Rome, May 16, via Paris, May 17.—Developments of the utmost importance are expected tomorrow, Monday, in the affairs of Italy. Premier Salandra has called the first formal meeting of his cabinet to be held since the passing of the ministry crisis, which resulted in his remaining in power with virtual indication of his foreign policy. It is considered highly probable a definite decision for peace or war may be reached.

The tension has been intensified by reports of clashes between Austrians and Italian frontier guards. The temper of the Italian people has been more highly flamed by dispatches telling of a "women's revolution" at Trieste. Forty-seven women are said to have been killed and 300 wounded there by gendarmes, when they charged a crowd which was threatening the governor's palace.

Approve Salandra Cabinet. Official confirmation of the report that the Salandra cabinet would remain in power, was greeted with the most remarkable demonstration of approval ever witnessed in Rome.

Women Riot in Trieste. Rome, via Paris, May 17.—A revolution has broken out in Trieste, according to a message to the Idea Nazionale Telegraph from the frontier. A crowd composed chiefly of women, most of the men being called to the colors, invaded the square which faces the palace of the governor, Baron Frisak. The women cried, "Death to Francis Joseph! Down with Austria!" They brandished Austrian flags, together with the portrait of the emperor and attempted to attack the palace.

WILL NOT ISSUE WEATHER FORECASTS IN ENGLAND AS THEY MIGHT AID ENEMY.

London, May 17.—No more weather forecasts are to be issued to the newspapers by the British Meteorological Bureau.

At the beginning of the war the weather report service was greatly curtailed on orders from the War Office, which asserted that it was information highly valuable to the enemy. A brief daily forecast, however, was continued. Even this, it is now pointed out, might prove useful to Germany if used in collaboration with information collected at local centers.

GERMANS TO PASS LAW PREVENTING CARRYING OF BOOKS IN HANDBAG.

Berlin, May 17.—School girls must not carry their books in a handbag, but in a knapsack on the back. The minister of education is responsible for this new rule, which is shortly to be issued. The rule is directed to teachers, parents and the girls themselves. The minister declares that the habit of carrying books in handbags is likely to lead to curvature of the spine and derangements of internal organs.

ARTILLERY BATTERY VIEWED BY HUNDREDS

BATTERY OF 137 MEN, FOUR 3-INCH GUNS AND 140 HORSES AND MULES CAMP SUN-DAY AT FAIR GROUNDS.

OVERLAND TO SPARTA

Spent Five Years in Texas, Going to Laredo During Skirmish—Left City Early This Morning.

It is seldom that a branch of the regular United States army visits this city, and knowing this fact, hundreds of people took the opportunity Sunday to view the 137 men, 140 horses and mules and four three-inch guns, and other equipment that made up Battery A of the third regiment, U. S. field artillery, that passed through the city on their way to Sparta, where a course of instruction and joint camp will be the program at the government reservation during the summer months.

The battery arrived in the city yesterday morning from Harvard. The men left Fort Sheridan last Wednesday, their march to this city being the first since they were ordered from the Illinois fort. The regiment remained at the Park association grounds during the day, being allowed to sleep under the grandstand last night. First of the battery at 5:15 this morning, Capt. Stephens and his men were off at six-thirty toward Brooklyn, where they will stop over to night, going to Middleton Tuesday. Six more days' march will bring the program before Sparta will be reached.

On the Border Line. For the past five years this regiment has been stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio and other Texas points. A little over a year ago, they were ordered to the border line, and made their headquarters at Laredo, beginning August 25th, 1913, and leaving there on June 4th, 1914. During their stay there, they failed to get into the skirmish with the Mexicans, but saw some of the fighting. As one of the regulars put it yesterday, "We were not fortunate enough to get into the fighting ourselves." When asked about a possible war with Europe, Capt. Stephens said he was anxious to get on German soil. I have been doing no active service during the five years I have been a regular." Captain J. E. Stephens of the battery is a native of Tennessee. He entered West Point in 1894 and has been in service since that time. Several times, when asked his point of view on the affairs between the United States and Germany, he refused to give an answer, other than saying that his orders were to keep still. "Wilson will speak for us," he remarked. Capt. Stephens is 38 years of age, nine, who is accompanying him to Sparta on horseback. A football was his chief source of amusement, the regulars playing with him during the afternoon.

At Instruction Camp. The battery left San Antonio on May 6th, making the trip by rail. They have been ordered to remain at Sparta until September, first when their orders are to return to Texas again. At Sparta, from June first until the 15th, a camp of instruction and the school for non-commissioned officers will be conducted. Following that course, the regiment will take part in a joint camp for militia until August 25th. During this period, the militia batteries of the state of Minnesota will be in camp and will use the status belonging to this battery.

In addition to the 137 men, 124 horses and four 3-inch guns, Capt. Stephens has his battery of 140 horses with one Red Cross ambulance, two field trains, 16 mules, 33 spare horses and wagons carrying rations and other camp material. Three lieutenants, Perritt, Bateman and Brewer, are the Captain's assistants.

The captain thinks he has the best outfit in the United States army, said one of the regulars yesterday.

NOTED ORCHESTRA DELIGHTS AUDITORS

Artists Who Comprise Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra Chimed Large Audience at Myers Theatre Yesterday.

Who could recount the wonder of the human instrument upon which Ernst Oberholzer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, played yesterday afternoon at the Myers theatre, with such sympathy and understanding, with such simple grace and beauty of tone? It was plain from the beginning that there was a man who not only understood human nature, but liked it. His slightest motion of finger or baton, his slightest variation of facial expression were read by his men and instantly they gave what he wanted. It was as though he actually played upon a marvelous instrument, so perfect was the harmony. In Oberholzer one finds a man of real temperament, whose sweep and virility are decidedly communicative.

The vocal quartet from "Rigoletto" as rendered by Miss Surdelius, Miss Heck and Messrs. Linquist and Green, all exceptional vocalists, brought round after round of applause and several encores.

The violin legends by Wieniawski, rendered by Richard Green, was a most delightful bit of melody and brought a number of encores.

The Minneapolis orchestra, while having its home in Minneapolis, is not made up entirely of Minnopolitans, but is recruited from the leading orchestras and musical centers of the world.

More people should have enjoyed this musical treat.

COLLECT OLD METAL FOR WAR PURPOSES

Vienna School Children in House to House Canvass For Material in Munition Product.

Vienna, May 17.—A house to house collection is being made in Vienna for old metal for war purposes. The collecting work is being done by school children. The military authorities are running short of copper, brass, tin, nickel and other metals, and the public is appealed to for all kinds of worn out and broken household wares of these materials. The Patriotic War Metals Collecting Fund has established store-rooms with show windows in which are displayed specimens of articles desired, such as brass candlesticks, brocade figures, copper mugs, saucepans and metal plates and dishes. Some 300,000 pounds of stuff is being brought in daily.

Emperor Francis Joseph has directed that about eight tons of old metal articles of the most miscellaneous character should be sent from the Hofburg and the palace at Schoenbrunn, and an archaeologist is sent to excavate at the historic center of Carinthia, near Pressburg, just across the Hungarian frontier. A Vienna newspaper has given old brass cauldrons, brass and petroleum lamps, weighing nearly a ton, and a rubber manufactory at Bruenn, Moravia has sent half a ton of brass sheets which can be used directly for making cartridge cases.

In another recent canvass of the city four hundred and seventy-three wagon loads of miscellaneous effects, valued at $260,000 have been sent in for the troops in the field, and for various charitable organizations. The wagons went down every street, rich and poor districts alike, on thirty-five collecting days between the middle of December and the end of March. The public responded most generously with an extraordinary variety of gifts.

Among the principal items were over two million cigarettes, and a vast stock of other smoking supplies. 45,000 pounds of chocolate cakes, biscuits, butter, flour, and other supplies, 8,000 pounds of candles and soaps, 4,000 bottles of wine, 6,000 jars of canned meats, and 1,250 bottles of mineral water.

There were immense quantities of warm clothing including 119,000 woolen garments, 180,000 pieces of underwear, 18,000 pieces of clothing, 13,000 pairs of shoes, and 3,400 hats and caps.

The whole work has been carried out by a special organization composed largely of the women of Vienna. The actual collecting work was done by Boy Scouts.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR BREEDERS' MEETING

Organizing Committee Announces Program for Big Meeting at Fair Grounds Next Saturday.

At a meeting of the organizing committee of the Rock County stock association, held Saturday noon at the county Y. M. C. A. office, final details for the organizing meeting were made and the program for the day was outlined. The session will be held at the fair grounds, commencing at one-thirty o'clock, which time Dr. A. S. Alexander will give the address on along the line of the value of the better horse on the farm. G. C. Humphrey, with a talk on the "Value of Breeder's Associations." Mr. Humphrey is well qualified to talk on this subject, as he is head of the department that organizes various breeders' associations in the state.

The committee is this week putting forth every effort to get out a large attendance by letter, phone calls or on personal visits. Every breeder in Rock county will be sent a special request to attend the meeting. To those who attend in the afternoon, the committee asks that they make a special effort to attend the stock judging demonstration in the morning at the Association Park grounds and to bring their boys.

SPORTS

WILLARD EXPECTED TO DEFEND CROWN

American Fans Will be More Pleased if New Champion Would Show His Goods Against Rivals.

(By Hal Sheridan.)

New York, May 17.—As far as New York is concerned Jess Willard has disappeared from the spotlight. Barely in his name mentioned by the general public and even the fight fans have many other topics to argue about than the man who humbled the giant black man at Havana. In where, in fight circles, is heard the heated discussions over his merits and defects as was the situation some years back when champions of other days held the limelight. Willard is even receiving less discussion than did Johnson when he won the title from Jeffries. Local ring stars are furnishing more excitement than the champion heavyweight.

How much Jess' stage work has diminished his popularity is impossible to calculate, but not a few fight fans would rather see the giant slugger in the ring than behind the curtains. Comparatively few people have seen Jess in action and that is what the followers of the fist sport desire above everything else. Even if they can not see him in action they like to read about him.

There is not much more in the descriptions about Willard for the ring followers. No one would deny the champ his full share of the little press run, his foot in defeating Johnson is worthy of a substantial reward. But between one night stands the big white champ might take a night off now and then and display his abilities to a fight hungry public.

And perhaps the unpopularity of Willard as a stage favorite will force him into the ring again sooner than expected. There is little doubt that Willard is not making a howling success of his circus stunt on the boards. He is not as well adapted to that kind of pastime as some former boxer-actors were. And if press reports can be credited Jess himself cares little for the glare of the footlights. He wants the limelight but the reflection from the little lamps hinders him.

A return to the ring would hardly endanger Jess' newly won title. No one is within several years of besting him in a fist argument. At least, not from surface appearance. Some one may develop as rapidly as did Jess himself and humble the western fight king, but the chance of this occurring is remote. Jess had been plugging at the boxing game for four or five years before he accomplished the "white hope" dream of the ring-side sports.

The champion is expected to fight about every second week. The public, thinks of him as a fighting man and to hold the affection of fight fans he must fulfill their expectations. That attitude accounted for Jeffries' popularity. Jeffries wanted to fight every man big enough to stand up to him. Stage work should be a by-product of a champion's real work.

GRANDTIDE EXTENSION TO SEVERAL STAR DRIVERS.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Indianapolis, May 17.—A time extension has been granted by the Indianapolis motor speedway to several entrants who declare themselves unable to report at the track by the specified date of May 15.

Among the laggards are Finley R. Porter, with three F. R. P. Grover Bergdoll, with three Bergdolls, Ralph Mulford, with his Mulford special, and W. R. Brown, with his Du Chesneau. There is also a possibility that Mercer may not be ready on the dot, though no extension of time has yet been asked for.

All the entrants behind schedule have the same trouble—their cars are not quite ready. Every effort now is being made to finish them up, and it is not thought a single one will fail to be on hand for the elimination trials, May 20, 21, and 22.

At the speedway, cars are now swarming thick and fast, all the entrants on the scene of action being out for practice almost every day. Stutz, Peugeot, Maxwell, Sunbeam, and several others are filling the air with the roar of motors, and making life one sweet song for the rail birds, of which there is the usual number present.

The chance of fast time in the elimination trials never looked better, all the contestants showing sensational speed, and one passing the other time and again as the cars are let out on the straight-aways or drilled around the turns.

LAJOIE'S BIG BAT WINS GAME FOR CHAMPIONS, 4-2

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, May 17.—The Philadelphia Athletics did not have the mighty Baker, Eddie Collins or McInnis but they had Larry Lajoie, who, with a brace of doubles, beat the Sox Sunday by the score of 4 to 2. Larry, with his war club of ponderous size and lightning pitching by Bob Shawkey, nailed the Sox and chased the Mack men to count two runs in both the second and third. Russell started for the Sox, but was driven to cover in the third when Lajoie doubled and Benz thenpiled the champs to three singles in six innings.

Fourteen Innings.
Cleveland, Ohio, May 17.—Boston defeated Cleveland in a great pitcher's battle between Wood and Norton, 3 to 0, in fourteen innings and not a Boston player reached first until the eighth, when Norton passed Hobitzel.

JANESVILLE FEDERALS WANT GAME WITH HAWKS

The Janesville Federals baseball team is organizing for the coming season. Howard Wade, 438 Center avenue, will manage the Feds this year and also hold down the first sack. Several practices have been held thus far and present indications are that the team, with the outlay of $100,000, is constituted of a fast array of players.

Manager Wade has announced that his team is particularly interested in securing a game with the Black Hawks and is willing to meet the latter at any time. Other teams desiring games are requested to write or confer with Mr. Wade.

BADGERS DEFEAT HARMONY TEAM BY A SCORE OF 14 TO 7

Good pitching by Brown and air-light support won a victory for the Badgers over the Harmony nine Sunday by a score of 14 to 7. Harmony players were weak at the fielding game and were completely baffled by Brown's curves. Limpney and Flannery were the heavy hitters for the Badgers. The lineup was:
Harmony—Wolfe, lf; Balling, cf; Campbell, rf; G. Waldman, 3b; Fullerton, 2b; W. Waldman, ss; Broege, 1b; Wright, p. F. Waldman, c.
Badgers—Cullen, cf; Brown, p; Cutts, 1b; Marshall, 2b; Flannery, ss; Limpney, 3b; McCulloch, lf; McLaughlin, cf; Persons, rf.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL NINE DEFEAT EDGERTON TEAM.

The Jefferson seventh grade team defeated the Edgerton grammar school team in a closely matched game at Riverview Park Saturday afternoon by the score of eight to nine. Not until the last man was out was the outcome of the game certain.

Herbert Flannery started for the Janesville nine, catching in "big league" form and as the youngsters expressed "rapped to perfection." Raymond Cullen pitched for the Jefferson team. Edward Leary played in the linelight for the Edgerton nine.

VIADUCT SLUGGERS WIN TWO GAMES ON SATURDAY

In two games, the Viaduct Sluggers defeated the White Sox in both contests played at the tank diamonds, Saturday morning and afternoon. In the afternoon game the Sluggers won by a score of 6 to 3 and the morning contest was won by the count of 7 to 14. The battery for the Sluggers was Robert Johnson and Cantwell, pitchers, and Hunter, catcher. The losers' battery was Charles Goeke, catcher, and Gerald Goeke and Raymond Smith, pitchers.

TWO SISTER SCHOOL NINES PLAY TEN INNING GAME

The fourth and fifth grade teams of the Sisters' school, battled ten innings at the Fourth Ward Park Saturday morning before the fourth grade triumphed by the score of 29 to 30. At the end of the ninth the score was 12 to 24 after an exhibition of wild hitting an extra inning was necessary to settle the grade title. Cullen and Leary were the battery for the fourth, while Dawson and Clark opposed them.

MORRIS MILLER

George Burns, Tiger first sacker, now convalescing from an appendicitis operation, may be able to work out in a uniform within two weeks. The Tigers are not counting on using Burns before July 1, unless Marty Kavanagh slumps badly in his hitting. Marty is in the .300 circle.

Football, baseball, track and even boxing are all in line with J. Howard Barry, University of Pennsylvania student, who captured the all-around intercollegiate championship recently at Philadelphia. The other day Barry tried his hand at the roping game and added some more prestige to the freshman class by defeating a sophomore boxing star. Barry dropped his opponent, a chap named Brown, in the first round with a hard right-hand swing to the jaw, and held the honors by a wide margin when the bell rang at the end of three rounds.

his game. Three passes in the first inning and an error gave Sioux City two runs.

At the start of last year it was triple plays that became so common they ceased to be noted. Now it is likely to be triple steals. The Chicago White Sox pulled one recently and the Indianapolis Indians a few days later came back with another. The Indian players to make it were Bronkie, Kelly and Metz, in a game against the Cleveland Spiders. Indianapolis stole eight bases in the game, so that even a triple steal did not attract great attention from the fans.

Manager Charley Herzog has his batters hitting at the first ball pitcher, it is said, and the records would indicate it, for the Reds are showing few strikeouts, going through three games without a man being fanned.

Frank Chance must be sitting in the shade of an orange tree these days wondering how Bill Donovan does it.

South Atlantic league clubs already are beginning to shift players about to balance up the league. Charleston announces the release "under option" of Pitcher Spald and Catcher Tubanks to Augusta, where it is hoped they will be of use against the rivals of Charleston for the pennant. While there may be no rule against it, the theory of loaning players to a club in the same league is morally bad and should not be permitted.

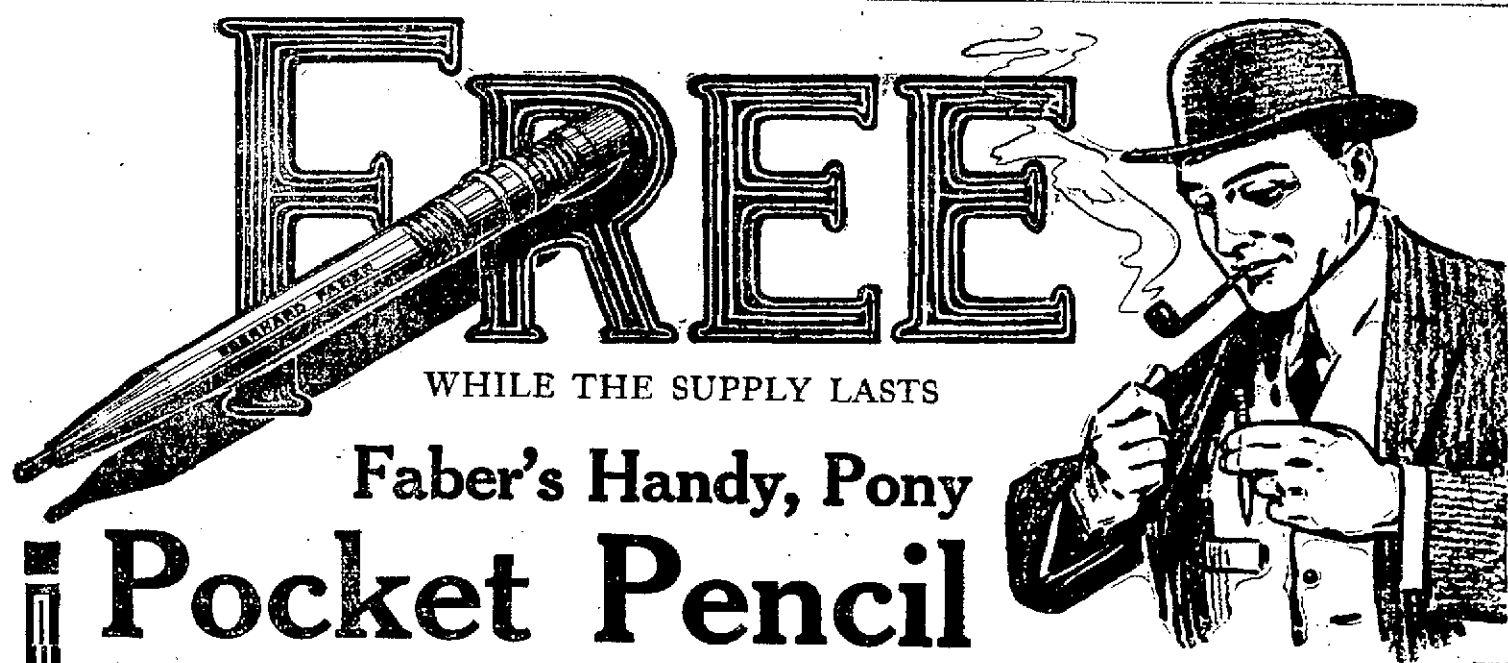

Who do you think is going to come back as a pitcher in a real regular league? Stony McGlynn, who has been signed by John McCloskey for his El Paso team of the Rio Grande association. Jack Bliss, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals, and later in the Coast league, will be McCloskey's field manager. Frisky old Kitty Knight will play first base for him.

It won't pay for those Boston Braves to get cheap and talk back to the ump's just because they are world champs. Hank Gowdy and George Tyler already have discovered this fact to their sorrow. They assayed an ump recently and President Tener plastered them with heavy fines. President Gaffney of the Braves then rubbed it in by saying he would insist upon the players paying their own fines because their language to the ump had been entirely unwarranted.

The Lawrence team of the New England league needs only to beat the Boston Braves and then it can claim the championship of all classes. Last fall it beat the New London team, winners of the Eastern association pennant, in a post-series. Recently it beat Providence, winners of the International league pennant, in an exhibition game. Now it issues a deft to Stallings and awaits his acceptance.

Nearly 500 of the leading amateur, and professional pugilists of England are in the ranks of the soldiers in France.

NEUTRALITY.

Behind the note of President Wilson to Germany on the question of the Lusitania sinking, lies the great problem of peace or war. It is not probable that the note, or the subsequent diplomatic letters which will follow, will actually result in hostilities for behind it all lies the great idea of keeping the United States in the neutral camp. The Wall Street Journal sums it up when it says:

"Those who represent the best thought of America have justly admired the admirable temper and tone of the president's note to Germany. In construction and point, it is the ablest state paper since Secretary Root's instructions to the American delegates at the second Hague conference. It is true that some little portions have gone off at half-cock, but the publisher has judiciously granted. But the spirit of the country is virtually unanimous.

"It has, however, not been pointed out that the best hope of peace lies in the fact that it is in the interest of the Teuton-Turkish alliance, as much as it is to that of France, Russia and Great Britain, that the United States should remain neutral. Our entry into the war, in fact, might be conceivably unfortunate for either side. If a matter of principle is involved, the patriotism of all Americans worth the name will not concern itself about the cost.

"Intervention on the side of the allies would for a time at least hamper them. In view of the urgent requirements of our own army and navy. Ultimately, it would help; but it would place us in the undesirable position of being unable to offer that mediation the sincerity of which is so clearly shown in the president's note.

"Germany should be able to recognize this, if only from the fact that anything like abuse is discarded in the note for a delicate irony which, it is just possible, the German foreign office may not appreciate at its full significance. It is, perhaps, a little characteristic that some of the English newspapers have in this respect failed to see it.

"It is deeply to the German interest that we should remain neutral. The alleged German population in this country, of which four-fifths were born here, all sizes, men, women and children, is less than ten per cent of the population of the United States, according to the last census. This element seems to have deceived what has been humorously called the German 'Intelligence' department, very much as it was deceived in expecting a revolution in Ireland and a Dutch revolt in South Africa or a Mohammedan uprising against the British rule.

"For the business of the country, it may be reassuringly said that the best pledge of peace in the present serious situation is that it is in the interest of all parties that the United States should consistently maintain its position of neutrality, and that it should remain as it has in the past, not only the best, but the only, judge of what constitutes its neutrality."

WANTED—INFORMATION.

On Friday last Agnes Hunsart, the young woman whose pleasing mannerisms have won hundreds of dollars from unsuspecting bankers and business firms throughout the country, was sentenced to one year imprisonment in the Wisconsin Industrial Home for Women, as provided for in the statutes by the legislature of 1913. The commitment papers were made out by the municipal judge and the solution of the problem that has vexed the court as to what to do for her crime appeared settled. Originally sentenced to a year in Waupun, on account of her youth and other facts, the court desired to be as lenient as possible and finally selected the Wisconsin Industrial Home for Women, as her residence for twelve months. He deputized a fit person to convey the prisoner to the institution and the case was dismissed from personal attention.

However, unfortunately, it bobs up again. There is no such institution as the Wisconsin Industrial Home for Women in Wisconsin. True, the site for such an institution has been selected, near Fond du Lac, plans have been drawn, but no building erected, in fact the funds for this purpose are not yet available and consequently the travesty on justice continues until the third act.

What will be the fourth remains to be disclosed. Meanwhile the young girl is held in custody here. Officers of other cities, with warrants for her arrest, have visited Janesville seeking to obtain possession of her person for trial in their cities, and with two sentences, one for state prison for a year and one to an institution that does not exist, already passed upon her, it will be interesting to note the next step.

It is understood the state board of control has no jurisdiction over her until she is delivered at one of the institutions they have charge of. As the last one she was sentenced to is non-existent, the question is whether the first sentence will be reaffirmed or what will be accomplished? Meanwhile the public enjoys the dilemma of the officials and wonders what next?

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

Governor Phillip and Speaker L. C. Whitte of Edgerton are to be in Janesville, Friday, August 13th, and will attend the Janesville fair. In honor of Speaker Whitte the day has been designated as Edgerton day so that he will have plenty of friends around him when he arrives. The governor himself selected Friday, August 13th, as the date for his visit despite the superstition attached to the Friday and thirteen. He explained that some of his best fortune had come to him on Friday and that he traveled once on train thirteen, car thirteen, had birth thirteen, on Friday the thirteenth, and had a most enjoyable and successful trip. Consequently, Friday, August thirteen, will be one of the banner days for the Janesville fair.

Some of the utterances of the ultra pro-German-American press as regards the president's message is a disgrace to the community they are published in. The German press of this country, as a whole, while deploring the necessity of the sending of the message, announces that the German Americans will stand behind the president. This is the proper spirit to display and is appreciated by the general public as one of the surest evidences that a satisfactory solution of the present difficulty will be reached.

While it is not all clear sailing up at Madison for the so-called administration measures calling for consolidation of various departments and reductions of state expenses, still the Governor is liable to put his foot down if the appropriations made pass a certain limit. The excessive grants of money made two years ago, are to be restricted by repeal legislation.

Hundreds of young men visited the battery camp at the Park Association grounds Sunday just to view first hand what might be expected if those five hundred thousand soldiers are called for that some of the war magazines announce will be the next move. Wet blankets and muddy camping grounds cooled the ardor of a few embryo war spirits materially.

This cold weather will materially delay street work, but it will all be accomplished in time and the city will be in holiday trim before the summer is half over. Madison is planning to lay several thousand dollars worth of concrete streets during the coming few months. The concrete streets are the coming roadways of the future, it is plain to see.

Now Portugal takes the top of column next to reading matter with its nice little revolution all its own. Portugal has been in a constant state of unrest ever since it had its first revolution when it killed its king and drove the royal family from the country.

Italy is evidently just itching to get into the European struggle, but thus far the cool-headed king has been able to restrain the war party. It looks now as though the lashes on the dogs of war would be slipped and something would happen.

Thus far the demand for ice this spring has hardly kept pace with the supply on hand. However it may turn warmer after Decoration Day it is to be hoped.

PLUMBERS' EXAMINATION

WILL BE HELD ON MAY 28

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., May 17.—A state examination for plumbers will be held in Milwaukee on May 28, according to the announcement which has just been made by the state board of health. The board expects to have about 45 applicants take the examination of which 30 will be journeymen. The examination will be conducted by the committee of plumbing examiners. It will consist of practical chart and written work, the interpretation of charts and blue prints and plans of plumbing installation. "As all journeymen and master plumbers now working in cities of 3,000 population or more without the necessary state license are doing so in violation of the state law, they are urged to take this examination," said Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer, today.

POOR ON FOUR THOUSAND

The conversation turned the other day upon some once wealthy acquaintances of ours who because their poverty because they are obliged to live on the pathetic income of $4,000 a year.

Some one blamed them for not realizing how well off they were and wondered if it were not affection which made them call the home which seems so pleasant and comfortable to us "that wretched little hole."

Then some one else came to their defense. "I don't think you can blame them. We'd all feel the same if we had to give up our homes and live in a tenement, and yet that tenement would seem comfortable to some other people."

"I suppose so," said the other critic, but in his voice was the lack of conviction which admits a fact but does not sense it.

It is indeed hard for us to sense how much difference the point of view makes in our relation to the material things of life. I had an experience the other day which made me see the effect of this point of view with the lightening flash clearness with which facts, obvious and yet not fully sensed, sometimes appear to us.

I happened to ride in town with my washerwoman. We passed a district where there has been a good deal of recent building. The houses are all fitted with modern improvements and are cheaply pretentious, but they are shoddy built and of a monotonous sameness which is depressing.

"It's too bad they've built that place up like this," I said, meaning the shoddiness and cheap sameness.

The Washerwoman Thinks They Are Too Grand.

"It is indeed," said my washerwoman, "when there's so many poor people needing homes near town and can't afford to pay the rent they'll ask for these."

Doubtless my standard of living, what I am contented with, is as sure as the sun.

Of course I do not contend that that makes it any fairer that some folks should have more luxuries than they can use and others should labor all their days without getting enough to eat and a clean place to sleep.

I only advance this as a clarification of the fact that wealthy people are no more contented than you or I.

Luxury and necessity are words which everyone translates differently, according to his standards of living.

A necessity is anything you have always had.

A luxury is something better than the things you are accustomed to.

The Poor Rich Folks.

In a way rich people are to be pitied because the range of luxuries possible for them is pathetically small. And then the number of necessities which they can lose is dangerously large. The greatest material tragedy is to have always had money and then to lose it.

While the greatest material source of happiness must be to suddenly come into money.

For it isn't what we have but what we gain, that makes us happy; not what we lack, but what we see, that makes us unhappy.

(2) It is poor taste to say anything that will embarrass.

(3) Almost every girl passes through the stage of reading the books, and later, when she is more sensible, regrets the time she has wasted on them. They are apt to make a girl sentimental, otherwise I see no harm in them. But they certainly can do juniors no good.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl nineteen years old. Sometime last summer I met a young man about twenty-two years old. We used to talk to each other and more than once he asked me if he could see me some evening, but I always refused because I have not a very nice home. I like this fellow. What shall I do?

(2) One day I met him and he offered to take me to the car line, and so I went with him. He is polite and everything, but he started talking nonsense and so I got rather wary to him. And the next week I met him again and he talked, but not much. Now he doesn't speak to me at all. When I am with another girl he will say hello and tip his hat. One day I met him face to face and he looked at me and smiled and I looked at him very soberly, and then I looked down. I think he knows he said things he isn't supposed to say and I think he feels sorry, too. What shall I do the next time, smile or look angry?

ANXIOUS DAISY.

(1) If the man amounts to anything he will not cast that kind of a home you live in. Let your friends come to see you.

(2) Nothing is ever gained by being in a hurry or sulky. You could have told him that you did not like what he was saying in a more dignified way. The next time you meet smile, but let him make advances toward renewing your friendship.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a friend who lives in another town. He will graduate from high school, and as I cannot attend the commencement him a letter of congratulation. If so, what should I write? Also, what would be a suitable present?

DARLING DOTTY.

A letter would be appropriate. Tell him in your own way how glad you are that he has completed his course, and wish him success in the future.

"The Rubiyat of Omar Khayyam" or "The Song of the Yulon" by Robert Service would make very good presents.

Dandelion Wine — An excellent spring tonic and a delightful drink. Three quarts freshly picked dandelion blossoms; put in stone jar and pour over four quarts boiling water. Let stand two days, stirring four times daily; strain, add three pounds granulated sugar, grated (rind, yellow part only) one lemon, heat quickly, boil twenty minutes, add three quarts more hot water, two oranges pared and thinly sliced, juice of one lemon, one-half yeast cake. Let stand twenty-four hours to ferment; strain and when clear add one pound washed sultana raisins. Let stand one month, then bottle in airtight bottles. Serve in thin glasses with chopped ice.

Elderberry Blossom Wine — Take one quart elderberry blossoms, pour four quarts boiling water over them, let stand one hour, then strain to one gallon; add three pounds sugar, boil until skimmings are all off, let stand until morning. Then put in three lemons and one tablespoon yeast, let stand twenty-four hours, then strain and bottle. Cork tight.

Elderberry Wine — One quart elderberry juice, two quarts water, three pounds sugar, mix together and let work until it works itself clear, then strain and bottle. Leave cork out of bottle until it's done working, then cork and set in cool place. In a few months it will be ready for use.

APPETIZING SALADS

Banana Salad — Carefully peel firm, ripe bananas, cut into strips and arrange on bed of lettuce leaves. Moisten with lemon juice, cover with pecan meats; dot over with mayonnaise and serve chilled.

Chicken Salad — Two cups cold white meat of the fowl cut into cubes, one and one-half cups blanched almonds, two cups diced celery; mix well and serve on lettuce dotted over generously with rich oil dressing.

Fish Salad — Take a fresh whitefish or trout, boil and chop it. Do not too fine; put with the same quantity of chopped cabbage, celery or lettuce. Garnish with lettuce leaves and spread over with mayonnaise dressing.

Bean Salad — String your beans; whole; wash and cook soft in salt water; add finely chopped onions, pepper, salt and vinegar; when cold add olive oil and melted butter.

Peanut Salad — Soak a pint of peanut meats in olive oil; drain and mix lightly with the same quantity of chopped celery and a dozen pitted olives. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Lettuce Salad — Take the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs and salt and mustard to taste; mash it together with a paste by adding a dessert spoon of olive oil or melted butter (use butter when it is difficult to get fresh oil). Mix thoroughly, then dilute by adding gradually a teaspoonful of vinegar and pour over the lettuce. Garnish by slicing another egg and laying over the lettuce. This is sufficient for a moderate-sized dish of lettuce.

Potato Salad (Cold) — Chop cold boiled potatoes fine with enough raw onions to season nicely; make a dressing as for lettuce salad and pour over it.

Salad Dressing — Two eggs beaten light, half cup vinegar, one tablespoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon mustard, butter size of a walnut. Boil until thick; when cold add one cup whipped cream.

Orange and White Grapes — Equal parts of orange cut in dice and white grapes cut in half and seeded. Mix and serve with mayonnaise dressing in orange shells.

All salads should be served perfectly cold.

Glimpses of Married Life

"Well," said Jo Parsons, bursting into the kitchen where Nell was washing dishes, "Mrs. Ellison is back home. I saw her in the yard this morning. I wonder what that means."

Nell had turned to drop the baby in the buggy and did not look up for a minute. When she did she had a friend laughing and said: "You look as if a blow had fallen."

"It has. That woman oppresses me! I hoped she had gone home. Good. Dick can find out from the doctor what it means."

That evening the doctor's note stopped in front of the house. Don't you want to go on a little ride, Morton? I want your advice on a matter," he said, as Dick sauntered down to the gate.

"I hope you will find out what the prospects are for getting rid of her," whispered Nell, as Dick kissed her goodbye.

"Yes," began the doctor, when the village streets were behind them. "I suppose you know Anna came back last night."

"Yes, Nell told me this noon," Dick was gazing far ahead.

"I had hoped the thing could be settled quietly and out of court, but it seems that it is impossible. When the doctor informed me that there was no insanity, although there was an unbalanced condition, I wrote to her and proposed that we live apart for a year or an indefinite period. I was to send her half my income and allow her to take the furniture if she cared to do so. She agreed to this, and I was preparing to send on the Extra feet and knee caps are on the market now which are such a boon to the busy mother who has many stockings to darn.

For the woman who wears out the under arm portion of her waists a good plan is to stitch a piece of silk or cloth of the same in the arm's eye and under arm seam as the waist is made, then when this piece may be darned down, with very little work and making a neat patch.

Place any simple little cross stitch design on personal belongings, it is prettier than the name and is easier done. Each person might choose her own color and design.

To mend table linen one should save pieces of the new linen to ravel threads from so that the thin places may be darned with these, making a less conspicuous spot on the linen than a patch. If a patch is necessary it should be set in on the thread, carefully felled down and darned on the back, matching the pattern of the linen exactly.

Lace curtains may be neatly mended by dipping a piece of net in starch, then press with an iron and trim off the edges.

Written for The Daily Gazette by Nellie E. Maxwell, Department of Farmers' Institutes of the University of Wisconsin.

For the busy house-mother who has many stitches to take, the worked buttonholes that come on narrow strips of cloth are ready to put on the small people's clothing as a wonderful help on mending days as buttonholes do pull out, made ever so well.

When darning hose, use a small medicine glass or tumbler, the open end makes an easy place to weave over as there is nothing to resist the needle.

When there is a bad hole in the silk stockings, save the wrists of silk gloves for the darning. Put a patch on the wrong side, felt it down and then turn the hose and darn it neatly. Such a patch will be much less work and less noticeable than a woven darn.

In darning any choice hose a piece of net of the same color can be basted on and the darning done through its meshes. A raveled thread from an old silk hose makes fine darning material and always be saved for patches and threads.

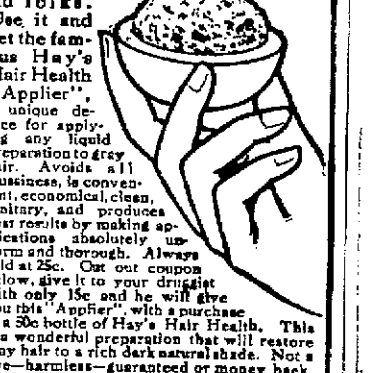

Gloves may be quickly darned or patched with a piece of court plaster of the same color. Turn the fingers and paste on a small piece on the wrong side of the glove using care to see that it is well caught and smooth. Such a patch will hardly be seen.

Letters May Be Addressed To Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am sixteen and considered large for my age.

(1) Am I too young to go, and come from places with boy friends? I receive in a very intimate way from boys, both in and out of school, to go to places where I would like to go very much, but I have to refuse because my mother thinks I am too young. I never ask her, for I know there is no use.

(2) There is a boy whom I like very much who wishes to come to see me. I refused him twice and now he thinks I do not like him. Is it wise to let a boy like this think you like him or do not?

(3) How could I go with him, as I would not meet a boy on the corner?

(4) Has a girl obtained enough education to quit school at the end of her sophomore year?

(5) I wish to ask mother if I may keep company. How would you go about it?

(6) Girls at sixteen usually start to receive boy callers. Give your mother your confidence; she will make a very good confidant, and when she understands you better she will give you greater freedom.

(7) There is no way for you to go with him without your mother's permission. If she does not object he may call at the house.

(8) Tell her about the boys who have asked to call, and ask her if you may let one or two.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) What kind of goods would be appropriate for graduation besides silk?

WEALTHY MEN, LURED BY SIREN, TELL OF HER WILES IN COURT

Mrs. Mary Moore, alias Miss Mai Jones.

It has been established that the girl who sang her siren song into the ears of Jack Taggart, millionaire coal dealer of Savannah, Ga., getting several thousand dollars of his money after which she sued him for breach of promise, is the same attractive person who played a similar game upon Jack Fleming, a wealthy merchant of Memphis, Tenn., and got away with it. To Fleming she was known as Miss Mai Jones; to Taggart she was Mrs. Mary Moore. They discovered her game before the suits came to trial and she fled, permitting both actions to go by default.

Origin of the Slavs.

The Slavs belong to the "Indo-European" race, although it is a question these days as to whether the Aryans, as the race is sometimes called, had their original home in Asia (around the Caspian) or in Europe. At any rate, the Slavs appear in Europe contemporaneously with the other Indo-European families to which they are related.

Equilibrium in the Kitchen.

Have you ever had your patience tried and the sweet serenity of your spirit ruffled by the wobbling and tipping of saucepans on gas stove burners which were too large? Keep a square or circle of fly screening at hand, to place over the burner when using very small cooking vessels and you will have successfully solved this problem.—Good Housekeeping Magazine.

FIGHTING AT YPRES BIGGEST ARTILLERY BATTLE IN HISTORY

Observer from British Lines Gives Account of Two Days Continuous
Cannonading Between Armies.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

London, May 17.—This is the greatest artillery battle in the history of the world; the expenditure of ammunition is fabulous, writes an observer from behind the British lines at Ypres, describing the fighting of April 25 and 26, which resulted in considerable gains for the Germans.

After describing the almost continuous cannonading that had been going on for two days, with literally thousands of guns in almost continual action, the observer suggests that the intensity of the firing may be judged by the fact that at one small bridge across the Yser twenty German guns fought eighteen English and French guns all night, until finally the German guns were silenced.

The French guns, he notes, were fired so rapidly that they sounded like an endless roll of thunder multiplied by a thousand.

Touching briefly on the Canadians' part in the battle, he says: "One of the most notable incidents of the battle was the work done by the Canadian supply column. Not a cartridge or shell was a second late in reaching the man behind the gun, and when the British guns opened across a section of supply men and they fell, others rushed in and kept the fighting line replenished until the wind blew the fumes away."

During the afternoon two aeroplanes—supposed to be British—marked and shelled exactly as the British aircraft are, few over the German lines, and it was noticed that the German shells played all about them, but they did not seem to be over the British lines and back again, but the German shells always fell far short of bringing them down. On their third visit the Canadian field battery, stationed in a trench, was hit by a shell, which had several shells, badly damaged, volplaned down into the German lines, and the other fled out of sight behind the German trenches.

Describing the artillery fighting, the writer says: "As far as our glasses could carry, we could see the white bursts of shrapnel, the black bursts of the German giant guns, or the feathering clouds of anti-aircraft shells whirling in the air, or the verberating dome of the sky, where both German and English aeroplanes soared. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly in the afternoon. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly in the afternoon. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly in the afternoon."

From behind our hill two British aeroplanes soared so low over us that we could see their guns; they climbed into the sky to drive away a Taube biplane which was flying over the hill sideways in the heavy wind. The Taube took to flight at a height so great that it looked like a dot in the sky even without the glint of the sun on it. Soon the white puffs of the German anti-aircraft guns and the madder white puffs of the British anti-aircraft guns punctuated the sky, above and below the glittering dots which were the aeroplanes gleaming in the sunlight.

Behind our hill were Belgian peasants ploughing. Further behind them, in a meadow, we could see men playing football. I discovered later that some of the men in the meadow were to march five miles to night and enter the trenches in a maelstrom of fire which was being held. I spoke to one of these men who told me that he was one of those who had been the first to be sent to the front last August. The umpire impatiently called time while I talked to the goalkeeper.

Tonight the glare of the battle illuminated the sky of Belgium for many miles. The tower of the Cloth Hall at Ypres and two church spires were visible in the rays of the evening sunset, but many fires were burning in the town and my glimpse of the ruins of the beautiful Cloth Hall tower may have been my last for the German shells were falling about it incessantly.

DEATH OF SOLDIERS IN YPRES WARFARE TO BE INVESTIGATED.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

London, May 17.—Two soldiers are reported dead in the military camp at Colchester, a few miles from London, as a result of inhaling poisonous gases while engaged in mimic trench warfare. It is said that experiments were being conducted for the purpose of developing means to counteract the gases alleged to have been used by the German troops in Belgium.

A sapper who had gone into a gas-filled trench was overcome and several others who went in search of him also succumbed. The sapper, a private named Williams, and the commander of the squad, Lieutenant Dalton, died before fresh men succeeded in getting the party into the open air.

ONE GERMAN REGIMENT
BURIED IN CEMETERY
OWNED BY SOLDIERS.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Berlin, May 17.—The soldiers of one German regiment who fell at Neu Chapelle lie buried in a cemetery owned by the regiment. After the battle, one regiment, concerned formerly bought, through a Lille notary, about four acres of land near a cemetery back of the battle line. A German gardener was hired to lay out the cemetery.

First Cattle in North America.

In 1493, on his second voyage to this country, Columbus brought a bull and several cows for the use of the colony that had been established in Haiti. This was undoubtedly the first importation of cattle to America and it is certain that no kind of cattle were indigenous here. Later Spanish explorers brought over other cattle and they soon began to multiply in South America. Wild cattle were numerous in South America before they were known in North America.

Ancient Ideas Concerning World.

Ages on ages of the growth of human reason layed before there was the least glimmering among the wisest of mankind of the rotundity of earth. Other ages were submerged in the unmeasured past before there came the crudest of scientific assertion of this rotundity. The greatest of philosophers of antiquity not so far distant believed the earth was flat; that it had this or that for a foundation; that foundation having this or that monster animal for its foundation, or that the whole rested on the sea.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, May 17.—Two of the actors giving a vaudeville stunt at the Majestic and who wanted to act like real actors, borrowed Ed. Kaufman's car Saturday and went for a little joy ride. Evidently they expected to maintain the same pace they have been setting in other lines, but were unable to stick to the track. While rounding a corner about a mile out of town, the machine did a gravevine overturning and spilling the occupants. The car was badly damaged, but the only injury seemed to be to the machine. The actors were able to go on last night.

About one hundred of the students of the Edgerton high school went to Charles Bluff Saturday.

Before they had arrived at their destination it started to rain and the students were ready to come back home and have the picnic some other time, but the boys of the school encouraged the girls to go. After arriving at the lake the girls prepared an elaborate three course dinner for the boys and after dinner the time was pleasantly spent playing baseball and various other games.
